The President and Mrs. Harding, With the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge and Cabinet, Keep Open House.

THE chief interest of the whole nation is centered on the White House today, where the President and Mrs. Harding are holding the first New Year reception to take place there in nine years. For the first period of the reception the President and Mrs. Harding will receive together and the last guest is received, though that has not been the custom of former first ladies of the land. The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge and the members of the cabinet and their wives preceded the other guests to the White House and were received by the President and Mrs. Harding on the second floor of the mansion, descending the state stairway with them to the blue room, where they formed the nucleus for a large company of assistants.

The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will be at home informally in their apartment at the New Willard this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. They will have no assistants.

The largest reception of the early day, aside from that at the White House, is the breakfast being given in the Pan-American Union by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes for the diplomatic corps. Today the delegates to the conference and their chief advisers and the higher officials of the State Department are also guests.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Weeks are to receive at their home, at 16th and V streets, and the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Denby will also receive. Other cabinet members observing the afternoon reception are the Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Hoover and the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Wallace.

Celebration for Young Folk at British Embassy.
The ambassador of Great Britain and Lady Geddes will entertain a company of young people this afternoon for their children, who are spending the holidays with their parents at the embassy.

The counselor of the French embassy, Prince de Bearn, will entertain twenty young friends of his children at a Christmas party this afternoon. Yesterday he entertained a company of his colleagues, officials and members of the smart residential circles of society, at a tea dance in celebration of the new year.

The United States ambassador to France and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick are spending the holidays at Beaulieu and are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Farnley W. Herrick and Laurence H. Norton. They will return to Paris this week.

Mrs. George L. Smith, wife of Commander Smith, U. S. N., will entertain at tea from 5 to 7 o'clock today in honor of Mrs. Henry C. Mustin, wife of Capt. Mustin, U. S. N., assistant chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the Navy. Mrs. George Barnett, Mrs. C. Phillips Hill, Mrs. Charles C. Wheeler and Mrs. William Littlefield will be at the tea table.

Senator and Mrs. Kendrick Expecting Denver Guest.
Senator and Mrs. John B. Kendrick will have as a guest next week Miss Idris Kendrick of Denver, Colo., who has visited them in Washington before. She will be here for the marriage of Miss Nina Gore to Lieut. Eugene L. Vidal January 11.

Senator and Mrs. Key Pittman held one of the largest receptions of yesterday afternoon, being at home informally at 3110 K street from 4 to 6 o'clock. Their next door neighbors, a group of bachelor British diplomats, received with them, the company, including Mr. Arthur Yencken, third secretary; Mr. A. H. Hamilton Gordon, also a third secretary; Capt. J. Harker, attaché, and Mr. A. H. Hamilton Gordon, another third secretary. Assisting Senator and Mrs. Pittman were Mrs. Le Breton, Mrs. Grouitch, Mrs. John B. Kendrick, Mrs. Breckenridge Long, Mrs. Henry W. Keyes, Mrs. T. De Witt Tamm, Mrs. Dorothy Trent, Miss Ingegard Wallenberg, Miss Kelly, Miss Rosemary Kendrick, Miss Mildred Brownell, Miss Dorothy Mondell, Miss Adeline Oxnard, Miss Anne Tennant, Miss Margaret Harding, Miss Olyve Graef and Miss Louise Hoar.

The ambassador of Brazil, Mr. de Alencar, will be the guest of honor at dinner this evening at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell Sweeney, who will also entertain in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart of Boston.

The Children's Country Home Ball at Raucher's tonight will be one of the smartest dances of the entire season sponsored by Mrs. Harding, who heads the list of patronesses, and having as box holders a brilliant array of society women. Mrs. James F. Mitchell and Mrs. Carroll Glover will receive the guests.

Mr. Charles Henry Butler had his usual New Year's day breakfast in the library of his home, 1535 I street, yesterday, when the guests, numbering about 150, included members of the conference, diplomats, members of the judiciary, higher officials and many from congressional and resident society. The breakfast was a stag affair, but Mrs. Butler carried out the usual custom of receiving her husband's guests by a number of ladies, nearly all of whom have had a glimpse of Monticello Farm, the Butler summer home in Blue, from which came the delicacies composing the entire menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley will hold open house this afternoon at their home on Connecticut avenue and will have receiving with them Senora de Biano, Mrs. Mahlon Pitney, Mrs. Henry Getty Chilton, Mrs. Robert Lansing, Princess Cantacuzene, Princess Bertha Cantacuzene, Mrs. Horace Westcott, Mrs. Herbert Shipman of New York, Miss Patten and Miss Isabel May.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Downey, who have spent a number of winters in Washington, will return to their home in the New Willard in a few days. Since leaving their country place in Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Downey have spent their time at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, and last week they entertained a box party at the Music Box Theater in New York, having among their guests Mrs. Van Rensselaer and Mrs. Ward McAllister Lewis.

Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood will keep open house this afternoon at her residence, 1619 Rhode Island avenue, and will have assisting her Mrs. George P. McLean, Mrs. Alfred Hawes, Mrs. George W. Uhle, Mrs. Owen Freeman Roberts, Mrs. Joel Hestvold, Mrs. Robert H. Chapman and Miss Mary P. Morgan.

Princess Bibesco, wife of the Rumanian minister, gave a Christmas party for her baby daughter, Princess Priscilla, Saturday afternoon, having sixty young guests. A feature of the party was the Christmas tree, which was adorned only with candles, a fancy of Princess Bibesco, who has a dislike for tinsel and other artificial trimming. Mr. Mircea Cristescu arrived yesterday.

MISS SUZANNE SILVERCRUYS, Sister of the second secretary of the Belgian embassy, who is visiting Mrs. Thomas F. Logan at the New Willard.

day to take up his duties as attaché of the Rumanian legation.

One of the most brilliant private balls of the week will be that given Wednesday night, January 4, with Mrs. Francois Berger Moran as hostess. She is entertaining her own friends and those of her two daughters, Mrs. Macfarlan and Mrs. McConihe. There are six hundred invitations issued, and boxes will be arranged about the sides of the ballroom to be occupied by those who do not dance. The company will be representative of official and resident society, with a number of diplomats also included, as well as many from the Army and Navy.

Mrs. James P. Woods, wife of Representative Woods of Virginia, will be at home at the Highlands tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6. Receiving with her will be her sister, Miss Ellis Moon of Chatham, Va., and the wives of the representatives in Congress from Virginia.

Mr. V. S. de Sokolowski, secretary of the Polish legation, will leave Washington today for New York to attend the dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Pope Satterwhite will give tomorrow for Mme. de Gama, White in New York he will attend several other dinners, and will spend a day in Philadelphia before returning to Washington on Friday.
